Riva Arts

Blending aesthetic appeal with technology

At its peak in the 1920s and 1930s, the Arts movement blended aesthetic appeal with technology to bring a new look to any object. This style is still influencing contemporary design.

The Riva 16 Arts Open Convector fire echoes the look of that era with a beautifully curved frame, finished in matt black. This can be matched with your choice of Holyrood or Portcullis front for a superb log burning fire. Alternatively, select the cast basket for burning smokeless fuels.
